

Thailand TOURISM AWARDS

For most countries around the world, the tourism industry unquestionably plays an important role in terms of economic prosperity and growth by allowing overseas visitors to come over and experience their unique culture and enjoy the wonderful things their country has to offer. Thailand is another destination which has been welcoming innumerable overseas visitors for many decades with its array of age-old traditions, history, food, shopping, beaches, islands, mountains and more.

Realizing the importance of setting and maintaining a high standard of facilities and services for visitors during their travels, The Tourism Authority of Thailand finally established the "Thailand Tourism Awards" for the first time in 1996 and has since been holding the event once every two years. Also known as "The Kinnari Award", it is named after the Thai mythical creature that symbolizes pureness and virtue, the core traits of superiority. Those who won the coveted award have passed strict requirements in all categories including environment, management, quality, development, marketing, services and more in order to guarantee satisfaction for visitors. Moreover, The United Nations World Tourism Organization has shown its approval and support in terms of measures implemented on environmental issues which will be monitored on a long-term basis.

AWARD

PERFORMANCE

This award is the testament to consistent quality, commitment and effort for hotel and spa operators who strive to deliver only the best. To achieve the ultimate prize of the Kinnari Awards, the 'Hall of Fame', the spa or hotel/ resort operator must be able to achieve 3 consecutive wins in the Awards of Excellence category. There is no doubt about the accomplishment and quality of these establishments as they have surpassed the high standards and principles of hospitality and service that continually exceed guests' expectations.

The Awards of Excellence raises the standard of achievement even higher in order to strive for excellence in the tourism sector. This golden Kinnari award, or the Awards of Excellence, is reserved for hotel/resort and spa operators who have passed a minimum of 85% requirement in all criteria. This award authenticates the premium standards through carefully scrutinized and evaluated process that are set to meet very specific criteria, thus linking a high-quality tourism product with exemplary Standards of service and facilities to the broader goals of national development, including culture, heritage and the environment.

Known in Thai as the Kinnari Awards, the prestigious Thailand Tourism Awards is organized every two years by Tourism Authority of Thailand. The award of 'Outstanding Performance' showcases the brown Kinnari figure and is given to the chosen spa and hotel operators who have achieved all requirements with minimum of 75%. The awards selection criteria focus on the issue of environmental management, corporate social responsibility, architecture and décor, as well as high standard of services.

CITY HOTELS

For a city hotel to be qualified as esteemed winner of the Thailand Tourism Award, many things are taken into consideration. Location, for one, is an integral part of city hotels as they must serve as a convenient base for tourists to explore the city center and provide convenient travel options for business travelers commuting within the CBD area. In addition, they must meet other criteria including safety, cleanliness, environmental factors, high standard of management, guest facilities, services, credibility, guest comfort and good relations with the local community among others factors.

RESORT HOTELS

A resort hotel is fundamentally dedicated to the holiday market. Thus, they are almost always located in a more relaxing environment such as forest, ocean, valley, mountain, sea, island, river or other tourist attractions. However, there must be other supporting qualifications such as environmental management for the local community, a determination to uphold local culture and of course, the ability to provide premium facilities, services and comfort to their guests.

BOUTIQUE HOTELS

A boutique hotel is differentiated from standard hotels and resorts mainly due to their theme or style of architecture and décor. Certain things are presented in their own unique way which can be an interesting experience for guests. This often comes in the form of personalized service, artistic and cultural representation that cater to a certain lifestyle choice for guests. And due to their individuality, boutique hotels are commonly smaller in size as they are not created for mass tourism.

CONVENTION HOTELS

Catering to the business market, a convention hotel is commonly larger than the average hotel and must be able to provide a proper venue for organizing a seminars or conventions and offers sufficient accommodations for attendees. There should also be related facilities such as ample parking space, appropriate light and sound system and other supporting technical equipment. In addition, the food preparation department must be big enough to provide food, beverages and service for a large number of people all at once.

POOL VILLAS

Devoted to the market of leisure travelers who value privacy, pool villas are the type of accommodation that come fully equipped with the comforts of home, enclosed indoor and outdoor living areas isolated from other guests and above all, an attached private swimming pool. Due to the secluded nature of the villas and their higher pricing, courteous and attentive service of the staff is most crucial for this type of accommodation. Pool villas are favored by honeymooning couples and families who enjoy ultimate privacy.

Amari

Watergate Bangkok

A modern hotel set in the heart of Bangkok, Amari Watergate is located close to the mainstream shopping areas and attractions including Platinum Shopping Mall, Pratunam Market, Central World, Rajprasong Intersection, Siam Square, Paragon and the highly revered Erawan Shrine.
